

ONE MOUNTAIN, MANY WORLDS

The mountain pathways are a network of pedestrian routes that, due to the range and diversity of places covered, represent one of the most enriching ways of discovering the region.

The Caniça route crosses a valley of rugged terrain where the landscape preserves a marked rural character. On the way, water is a constant presence with numerous places that encourage close contact with nature.

CANIÇA ROUTE

The Caniça route develops along the valley of the Caniça stream in a landscape dominated by woodlands, pine trees, hay meadows, scrubs and rocky outcrops.

On this route, the Lapa woodland worth's a special mention, woods of very old sweet chestnut trees support a great diversity of species flora and fauna, some of which are rare in Portugal.

Along the stream, the Caniça waterfalls, the Devil's Horns, a curious rock formation, and the Buraco do Sumo, were the water flows underground, merit specific attention.
